Who are the children your donations help?

No income, no food, no hope for the future. After her father left Elena and her sister with their mother in a sparse home in Xai Xai, Mozambique, things were bleak. Yet she faced more trouble when her mother died last year, leaving Elena and her sister in the care of extended family members.

Unsure of where she would live or what her future would hold, Elena clung to one thing: the One Child Matters staff at the Xai Xai Mercy Center truly loved her. They came to her mother's funeral and never stopped checking on her. "These are my friends and family," she realized as they slowly coaxed her back to the center. Soon she was back to leading worship and her dance team on Sunday mornings.

Elena continues to grow and develop, having learned so much about caring for others from the care she herself received. "She's a great leader and takes care of the other children," one staff member reported. "We are so proud of her. The entire room changes for the positive any time Elena is present."

All over the world, children like Elena are transformed by the hope, truth, life, love, and mercy available through sponsorship and the programs those donations support. Elena's story illustrates that investing in one child can often change the lives of others—because one child matters!

2012 was an exciting year for us, a year that confirmed our mission and goals while giving us new energy. After DEAR FRIENDS, 2012 was all exciting year for us, u year that community much prayer and counsel, we changed our name from Mission of Mercy to One Child Matters.

As we made this transition, I was reminded of the significance of names in Scripture—a person's name expressed the greatest hopes, strengths, and beliefs of a society. When God changed someone's name, it was often to mark their potential and who, like Simon Peter, God knew they'd become.

One Child Matters holds the same promise; everything we do is modeled after the heart of Jesus. He reached out to individuals even when the masses crowded around Him—Jesus focused on the one. He recognized and communicated value to individuals who were overlooked and abandoned by society. His outreach was personal, and so is ours. Our programs are designed to meet each child at their point of need. The result is beautiful: hearts and lives transformed one child at a time.

Over the past year, you have helped us bring hope, truth, life, love, and mercy to more than 39,000 children worldwide:

- Our outreach into Zimbabwe, our newest country, has continued to expand. Thanks to our Church Partnership for Mercy program, we now have 6 projects and serve more than 1,500 children in Zimbabwe.
- Medical Mercy volunteers went on 3 medical trips, serving more than 3,300 children and training 16 additional healthcare workers to ensure the highest standard of care for the children in our programs.
- Mission teams from partner churches, radio stations, and our volunteer network sent 470 people on 26 teams to 9 different countries.

God continues to bless our ministry efforts and has multiplied our impact around the world. We are excited about 2013 and all God will accomplish through your partnership with One Child Matters. There are many more children to reach and together we can make an eternal difference. Thank you for your friendship to this ministry and your commitment to the children we serve—you reflect the heart of God.
